In his 20-year career, David has shot some of South Africa's most loved advertising campaigns. His signature photographic style mixes beautiful aesthetics with a wry sense of humour, elevating the creative message in the most eye-catching way possible.

At present he is the most awarded photographer in the country, having won trophies of every colour at Cannes, D&AD, One Show, Art Directors Club, Clios, London International, New York Festivals, Loeries and the Eagle Awards.

David's work has also featured in the Communication Arts Photography Annual and the Luerzer's Archive 200 Best Photographers in the World.
